BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

POWER AND MAJESTY

Bless the Lord, O my soul. O Lord my God, thou art very great; thou art clothed with honor and majesty:

ARE WE FULLY APPRE- CIATIVE

We have often heard it remarked that Scotland Neck people demanded the best of everything and were not satisfied unless it were the best, yet were not willing to pay the price.

That is a rather too severe indictment as to the unwillingness to pay, but we do demand the best because we know that it is only the best which pays.

The management of the local playhouse really tries to give Scotland Neck people good attractions; in fact, better than those enjoyed by towns many times larger. We should encourage them in this by patronizing the good things which they may offer, and at the same time realize that a sufficient price must be charged in order to get those good attractions here.

It is far better to have problem and mystery plays than to have vulgar musical comedy with its attendant display to attract the lower instincts of human kind, and when we are offered the better class we should show our appreciation by filling the theatre.

Some may kick on prices and there may be two sides to the question, but for us we much prefer the higher class plays and movies than the lower order and had rather pay the price.

ORGANIZE FOR A REAL FAIR

While the enthusiasm over our recent fair is at white heat we should organize at once to make the idea a permanent one, and should begin now to prepare for next year.

The big idea should be not to hold a sectional fair nor invite exhibits from other sections, but to enlarge on the Community Fair idea and show just what we, as a community, can and are doing just in our own section. If we begin now and have an entire year in which to prepare every thinking farmer in this section will work throughout the year toward that day and when the gates are opened the exhibit which will be shown will surpass anything we ever dreamed of as coming from this section.

Let us hear from others on this subject and let us get to work now to carry the movement through at once.

DEMOCRAT'S OPPORTUNITY

In a speech to thousands of admirers who called on him Armistice Day former President Woodrow Wilson said that the Democrats must "give service" to the country and force the Republicans to a stand on important issues.

In a recent interview, when asked what would cause the Democrats to win the next President Congressman Claude Kitchin said the Democrats in the House would force the President to take a stand on the prominent issues before the people, instead of continuing their policy of "wobbling."

It looks as if the Democrats will have a good chance to organize the next House through the aid of Independents, Progressives and others not so closely allied with the present standpat administration. Even if they should not be able to organize the House they will have sufficient backing to make the Harding administration take a definite stand on the many issues before the people and through that means accomplish the downfall of the Republican party in the next general election.

It is a great opportunity which is presented to the Democratic party and it is fully alive to the situation. History will repeat itself during the next two year and 1924 will find the Democrats again in power.
